

Harrisburg, NC
Case # 06252010
Private Residence

Time 8 p.m.

Clear and Breezy conditions, temp. 75 degrees, outside.

Members Present :

David, Debbie, Justin, and Stephanie

Equipment Used :

Voice Recorders, 4 I.R. cameras, EMF Meters, K2 Meter, Temp. Gauges, Digital Cameras, and Hand held Video.

Claims of Activity :

This is a re-visit from a year ago. Home owner is still having experiences of being touched while in his office, and in the kitchen. Strange feelings of not being alone.

Assessment :

We were very happy to go back to this residence to try and solve this man's problems. We felt honored that he asked for a revisit to try and solve again what might be going on there. Not much had changed from our first visit, the home was calm and non eventful upon entering. Our equipment was set up in a timely way after the walk through.

Personal Experiences :

Two team members did get a "spider web" feeling in the kitchen in the same area that the home owner had had strange feelings.

Evidence :

EVP - None captured

Video - None captured, only periodic camera shakes, probably from walking around the cameras.

Temp, Changes - None noted

EMF - We did find unusually high readings coming from a radio plugged into a kitchen receptacle. This was in the area of strange feelings. We did get periodic responses from the K2 when asking questions. We did not feel these were credible due to inconsistencies

Visual - None noted.

Conclusion :

P3 could not find any scientific evidence for the feelings that the home owner was feeling. We entertained the thoughts of maybe some kind of past cultural events that could pay an impact on what was going on, but seeing how our expertise was not in that area we were not able to help him solve his problems. We wish him luck in finalizing all this, and offer our help in any way we can.
